Yearbook - Memorial Hall School

Bostonian

Roxbury Memorial High School

Roxbury, Massachusetts

Foreword

This yearbook has a melancholy distinction. It is the last of Mother Memorial's children. It is the first yearbook to appear under the combined titles of "Laurel" and "Bostonian," for it is published by the only co-educational senior class to leave Memorial. And for this reason it is the last yearbook to bear the name of Roxbury Memorial High School.

As editors, we feel a special responsibility that this, the last, shall be, if not the best, at least worthy of its fine predecessors in both the boys' and the girls' schools. It is our hope that in its pages the readers will recapture with affection their days in the dear old school. And so we greet each classmate, in this, the last yearbook, of this last year, with a salutation particularly fitting,

*Fare thee well! and if forever
Still forever, fare thee well.*

ADVERTISERS

With pride, with pleasure, and with a sense of privilege, the class of 1960, the last class to be graduated from Roxbury Memorial High School, dedicates this yearbook to our Head Master, Dr. Paul B. Crudden, in appreciation of his never-failing kindness and sincerity.

Dr. Crudden's career has many intimate bonds with Memorial. A teacher in the boys' school from 1930 to 1942 and Co-ordinator from 1949 to 1951, he came a third time in 1953 as Head Master of the boys' school. In this, the last year of this great school, he has been Head Master of the combined boys' and girls' schools.

Dr. Crudden can look back with pride and happiness on his years at Memorial. He has known the school and loved it. He has guided it and fought for it. His help and guidance have always been at the instant service of pupils and alumni. His interest has sustained them, his encouragement has inspired them. He has appreciated the part that Memorial should play in the community life of Roxbury, and he has striven that he and the school might continue to serve the people of the district.

And now Dr. Crudden leaves, we leave, and Memorial is no more. Perhaps more keenly than any others, we of the last graduating class feel the pangs of a great loss. We know what Memorial has meant to us, and much of that knowledge is the result of our association with Dr. Crudden. We have seen his love for the school; we have been grateful for his competent skill in blending into a united school the separate traditions of both boys' and girls' schools; we have grown to know with affection his friendly smile, his easy manner, his firm judgment, and his eagerness to know each of his pupils as an individual person, and not just another senior.

As the last class, we shall carry away not merely the memories of a traditional senior year, but something more valuable—the inspiring influence of a Head Master who has prepared us to meet the world as better persons, who has instilled in us a love of all that Memorial stands for; and so long as one of us shall live, that love and that influence will insure that the spirit of Memorial does not die.

Dedication

DR. PAUL B. CRUDDEN

A MESSAGE FROM

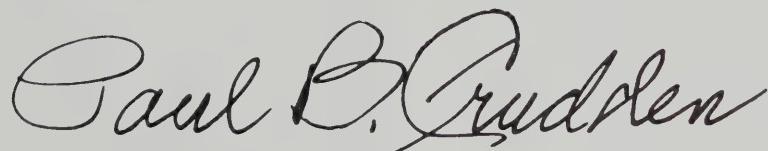

Our Head Master

TO THE CLASS OF 1960:

Your class has the unique distinction of being the last to graduate from Roxbury Memorial High School. When your graduation exercises are completed the school officially passes out of existence.

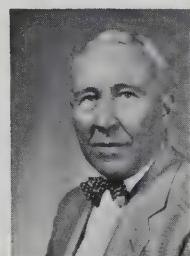

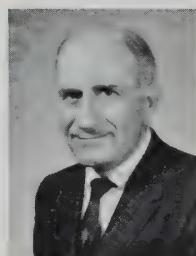

Graduates, students, and teachers are proud to have been associated with this fine school. I know of no other place where affection for a school was so genuinely felt as here at Memorial. The fine spirit at Memorial was an important consideration in the scholastic success of the school. Her graduates have attained distinction in the business, the professional, the social, and the political life of our country. Two other significant factors in the success of the school have been (1) an excellent student body over the years, students who had the good judgment to avail themselves of the opportunities Memorial offered, and (2) an outstanding hand-picked faculty that was dedicated to the task of educating American Youth. Memorial teachers were inferior to none. The class of 1960 is fortunate to have had such teachers guide their educational destiny.

You, the members of the class of 1960, will be able to meet life's challenges in whatever capacity destiny places you. You should achieve the same degree of success as your predecessors. You certainly will achieve it if you make use of your educational inheritance. Cherish the ideals you have absorbed at Memorial, for they will guide you through the problems of life. I wish you success in your undertakings, happiness in your careers, and the joy of well ordered and useful lives.

"This month shall be unto you the beginning of months; it shall be the first of the year to you—"

Passing through the doors of Roxbury Memorial High School, we emerge into a world of competition and challenge. We express our deepest gratitude to our headmaster and faculty who have instilled in us the virtues of courage, humility, and responsibility so that we may face the problems of this new world maturely. To our parents, who have guided us with love, understanding, and patience, we shall not give thanks, but repayment, by following the straight and narrow path through life.

Even though the doors will close for the last time and the classrooms grow desolate and silent, the merriment and laughter shared by the class of 1960 shall ring forever through the halls of Roxbury Memorial High School. The ties and friendships that have been born during our years here will be everlasting, for we are bound together by the common bond of brotherhood.

Without the co-operation, initiative, and enthusiasm of my friends and classmates the last of our high school days would not have been as memorable as they have been. To each and every one of you I extend my sincerest appreciation for your combined efforts.

Life is like a book. As you turn each page, I pray that it may be filled with health, happiness, and success. May you always have faith in God and find strength in His Love.

Class Poem

Our parting time has come;
We leave our carefree days
And hope to find success
Though care-filled be our ways.

Memorial, our love,
Accept our sad good-bye:
Though now your doors must close,
Your spirit will not die.

You'll live in memory,
Though memories may fade
We know we'll keep alive
The friendships you have made.

The green of life, the gold
Of wealth together blend:
Our loyal colors fly
Triumphant to the end.

—Elaine Dores and Diane Kanter

Class Song

Tune: America, the Beautiful

Memorial, we came to you
To start us on the way,
The long successful journey
Which we must close to-day.

You taught us all we need to know
To carry on from here.
Memorial, within our hearts
We'll always hold you dear.

And as your portals slowly close,
The burning torch held high
Proclaims our love, your glory,
As we go marching by.

—Carol Daniels

Class Prophecy

A faint but glowing spark, the spirit of Memorial, slowly spiraled toward outer space. It formed a new planet, the planet of Memorial, consisting of only fellow Memorialites from the class of 1960. And here we are, on this new and shining star.

Let's take a walk through Crudden Boulevard. As we pass the Community Chapel, BURT CASWELL is joining as husband and wife RONNY SORGMAN and MARGIE PRESS in a double wedding ceremony with MIKE SINMAN and SHELLEY WINER. Governor BETH KLASS is climbing into her Nash-Carroll limousine driven by her chauffeur—DAVID WEINERMAN. Next door is Tarutz Courthouse, with Judge GUNN presiding. Attorney HAZEL MCFERSON is defending MARGIE LEBEN, accused of flying too slow in her rocket ship. LARAINA DAVIS, prosecuting attorney, calls witness JUDI SANBORN. The jurors are ELINOR AKELL, JOSEPHINE AUSTIN, FRANCIS BURRELL, CAROL GOSMON, JANICE KAZAR, JOYCE LEDERMAN, JOY LEZBERG, GLADYS POTTER, JANICE RANDOLPH, BARBARA WEINER, CHRISTINE ZOPATTI, and IDA ZUSHUK. JUDY THOMPSON, assisted by CHARLIE MUNROE, is taking pictures for the Laurel-Bostonian.

Boppin' down Beatnik Row, we make the scene at the G & G where we see MADELINE RICHMOND, PHYLLIS SCHWARTZ, ELINOR KEMLER, SHEILA STRACHMAN, ROBERTA WALDMAN, MERLE FREEMAN, and SANDY SOROCO. ROBERTA FRANKLIN and CASANDRA BATSON take our orders, and as we leave the "BIG G" FRANCINE DOBRO and SANDRA BESSIN take our money. It's just like the old days at R. M. H. S.

Our next stop is the Green & Gold Playhouse, featuring the "COEDS" with BOBBIE MILLER, GRETCHEN COLEMAN, BILLY JONES, and CAROL DANIELS, assisted by MELVIN TOON on bongos, and JOHNNIE FERNANDEZ on guitar. BARBARA CHASE accompanies SHEILA GELLER in "MADAME BUTTERFLY." Costumes by SHEILA BEDA, choreographer—JOANNE SAMPSON. SUSAN GITNER sells us tickets, and as we enter we discover . . . No lights, No camera, No action—because ADA SIMS on curtains, PHYLLIS KAPLAN on house lights, and EVELYN PORGES on spot-lights, got their signals crossed,—JOEL ABRAMS and LENNIE HOLTZMAN, our electricians, to the rescue. The refreshment stand sells only "candy"—sold by CAROL SIMON.

We turn up Brougham Lane and come to BEBERMAN'S Beauty Salon. Peeking in, we see MARILYN CANTER, ROBERTA JACOBS, and FREDDIE DAVIDSON being touched with various hues of pink, yellow, and green. Walking on we see KANTER'S Dentistry, HURWITZ'S 5 & 10, and MARCUS'S Art Studio with his assistants NANCY PARVEY, JUANITA CLAY, JUDY LIPSON, and MARIE JONES.

Approaching Kenney Place, we find The SLOTNICK Insurance Building, where CYNTHIA KATZ, BEVERLY SIBULKIN, BRENDA RUTSTEIN, ROBERTA BOWER, MARTHA PINTO, and CAROLYN DEPINA are busily typing manuscripts.

We visit the home of that great daily newspaper, Laurel-Bostonian, where BOBBIE LIPNICK is pondering whether or not to fire her assistant literary editor, SHEILA COHEN, for wearing her skirts too short. She overheard printers JOHN BURKE and MIKE DONAHUE discussing the matter with EDDIE DEYESO and MIKE "INKY" DAVIS. Going on, we see ELAINE COHEN, literary editor, telling BARBARA BRYANT and ROBERT MATTHEWS to find the latest scoop on the printers' strike. Suddenly KENNETH MCKINNON, DICKIE FRANCIS, JAMES NICHOLS, GENE NEVILLE, and FRANCIS MANCUSO burst in shouting their war-cry, "More leisure during working hours for all printers."

Leaving this mad-house and going up Beck Road, we see ROBERTA ROONEY, MARGARET NEWTON, ROSEMARIE AGOSTINO, and JACKIE LYNCH, the "noble four," taking off in their Double-Bubble-Rocket-Ship. Our next stop is Memorial General Hospital, where DONNAT MITCHELL and WINNIFRED SARGENT are operating on JAMES GRIFFIN & HOWELL YANCEY. SANDI SMARGON, X-ray technologist, is taking X-rays of "HUNKY" PADERSON, the star runner, who hurt her elbow running into a kryptonite wall at school. ESTA TITLEBAUM, medical secretary, rushes a report of SANDIE "SWISH" WALLACE'S fractured finger to the plaster room. As we depart, PHYLLIS BRAVERMAN is admitting EILEEN STEIN, who missed the chimney and fell to the ground while playing Santa Claus. We visit Simendinger's Fashion Center, where LINDA BURTON is selling AMY LEVINE & LINDA WASSERMAN the latest in space helmets. It's almost two o'clock, and BETTY OREL, BRYNA RADONSKY, ELAINE SHUMAN, HELEN SKIBBS, SHIRLEY MEIZLER are sponsoring the first space fashion show, featuring models MICHAL MARSH, NANCY GRAY, and JACKIE JIMPSON, with NORMA BERKOWITZ as commentator. At a board meeting, we find MARION WEBB, the manager, warning assistants ROBERT ISVECK and SAMUEL MITCHELL to watch out for MARVIN CLARK and ALLOYD HURLEY, the loafing stock-boys. Buyers ALFONSO WILLOUGHBY, RICHARD SHORT, GEORGE TAYLOR, ROBERT WINBUSH, and DONALD EVANS are assigned to earth to spy on the latest fashions. Floor managers PAUL COLLERAN and JOHN DINNALL are hiring three floor walkers: DONALD MISH, ROBERT KATZ, and DAVID ROSENTHAL.

On McGrimley Terrace, the Memorial Planetarium School is in session. In the office, SHEILA LEVINE and ELAINE DORES, the secretaries, announce us to the Head Master, ARTHUR BRIGHT, who shows us around. In the chemistry lab Professor INA ASNES is conducting an experiment with little ETHAN ALLEN CHASE III blowing hydrogen bubbles. STEVE DAMELIN JR. sets off an explosion putting us all in MIMI HOLLANDER'S typing class, where ELLIE BLOOM is taking a post-graduate course in erasing. We bump into ROBERTA BROWN, STILL delivering attendance sheets. In MONSIEUR GERALD RONKIN'S French class we see ROBERT JUMPER and EDDIE KING taking a refresher course in French. Strolling through the park, we are surprised to see SHEILA KOHNER, GAIL WAX, and LINDA FREID pushing their baby carriages; and EDDIE WHALEN and RALPH MUNICIELLO selling peanuts and popcorn to HELAINE KELMAN'S triplets and FAITH LITVACK'S twins. As we walk along Simmons Lane, we see a huge marble statue of MOTHER MEMORIAL. Sitting directly before it, we take a minute to reminisce about our wonderful years at R. M. H. S.

Class Will

We, members of the last graduating class of R. M. H. S., proudly, and without malice aforethought, do hereby will, bequeath, and devise a few prized possessions. Having taken under consideration the fact that the bequests below might possibly cause dissatisfaction for a few ungrateful recipients (as most wills do), we urge the legatees to question themselves as to whether they are worthy. Having been declared to be of sound mind and judgment we hereby bequeath the following:

TO DR. CRUDDEN: We leave our appreciation for his guidance and understanding.

TO MISS BECK: We leave a tape recorder that says, "No pin curl clips in school, girls."

TO MISS BOGAN: We leave our gratitude for her help in all our class activities.

TO MR. BORTNICK: We leave a molecule and a space ship to the moon.

TO MR. BROUGHAM: We leave a volume—"The Newest Slang Expressions in Ten Easy Lessons."

TO MR. BROWN: We leave a toothless comb and cab fare to Warner Associates.

TO MRS. CUNNINGHAM: We leave our doctor's bills for indigestion.

TO MISS KENNEY and Mr. McGRIMLEY: We leave our sincere thanks and 1,000 jobs to be filled by 1961.

TO MISS McMORROW: We leave an automatic dictation machine.

TO MR. McSHERRY: We leave a 35 minute speed test to be done in 15 seconds.

TO MR. PEARL: We leave a special pair of Charleston shoes.

TO MISS SIMENDINGER: We leave a gift certificate to the House of Nine.

TO DR. TARUTZ: a. WHO? b. WHAT? c. WHEN? d. WHERE? e. WHY? f. HOW?

TO MRS. THOMPSON: We leave those back-breaking Kraus-Weber exercises.

TO MR. WALSH: We will test tubes to replace those broken by his budding chemists.

TO THE JANITORS: We leave an automatic garbage disposal for each table.

And to the following pupils we leave:

MARILYN CANTOR: A locker equipped with ELINOR KEMLER and the newest shades of lipstick.

CAROL DANIELS: A million-dollar contract with Columbia Records.

JOEL ABRAMS: A two-gun holster to go with his cowboy boots.

BETH KLASS: A trip to Paris so she can visit the House of Dior.

HILLIARD JONES and JOANNE SAMPSON: Trophies for being the quietest people in the school.

MARJORIE PRESS: RONNY SORGMAN.

GRETCHEN COLEMAN: A new pair of white gym sneakers and polish!

DAVID WEINERMAN: Life membership in the Forum Club.

MINERVA GUNN: A foam rubber gym suit for the next time she falls.

WILLIAM JONES: An Unknown sweater that will fit, and a bottle of slowdown pills.

JOHNNY FERNANDEZ: A solid gold guitar.

SHEILA BEDA: A book entitled "How to Paint An Original Rembrandt."

SHEILA KOHNER: All of our old shoes purchased at Wilburs.

EDWARD DEYESO: A 22" comb and a 4" by 6" mirror.

GEORGE TAYLOR and MARIE JONES: One alarm clock each.

BARBARA BRYANT: Johnny Mathis.

ROBERTA LIPNICK: All the old homework assignments that she helped us with.

HAZEL MCFERSON: MARILYN GUNN.

DONNAT MITCHELL: All the absentee and tardy slips.

DONALD KERNAN: A year's supply of Cott's and SANDY.

ARLENE PADERSON: That name she hates so much—HUNKY!

ROBERTA ROONEY: The title of honorary president of the Four Musketeers!

ETHAN ALLEN CHASE: A scholarship to Aristotle's School of Debating in Greece.

SHEILA COHEN: Leg make-up to keep her knees in A-1 condition for those short skirts.

ADA SIMS: The Backstage crew!

LEONARD HOLTZMAN: MELVIN TOON and ROBERT MILLER.

CASSANDRA BATSON and ROBERTA FRANKLIN: The lunchroom, complete with soup dipper and sterling silver.

MADELINE RICHMOND: The nickname "Venus."

LINDA FREID: A French sports car to go with her poodle.

ROGER MATTHEWS: A permit to escort the girls to and from class.

RUTH DANTOWITZ: A chauffeur's license.

BEVERLY SIBULKIN: BARBARA WEINER and IDA ZUSHUK.

ROBERTA JACOBS: A hairdressing salon.

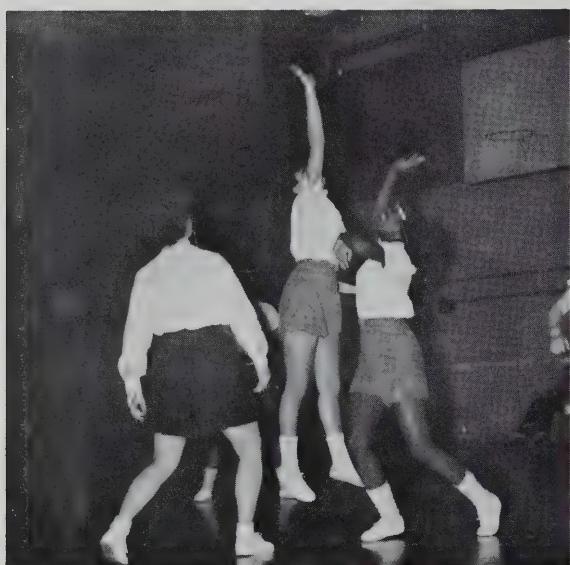

CHARLES FREDERICK: A copy of Shakespeare's Macbeth.

NORMA BERKOWITZ: Butter to go with her loaf of bread.

DIANE KANTER: Her wardrobe.

LA RAINÉ DAVIS: Her Ipana smile.

THE CLASS OF 1960

ROW 1: Steven Slotnick, William Jones, Ethan Chase, Melvin Toon, Stephen Damelin, Ronald Sorgman, David Weinerman, Edward King. ROW 2: James Griffin, Donnat Mitchell, Hilliard Jones,

Charles Munroe, Robert Miller, Edward Deyesso, Henry Cox, Howell Yancey, Mr. Walsh. ROW 3: Gerald Ronkin, Leonard Holtzman, Joel Abrams, Stephen Gold, Martin Marcus, Michael Davis.

Room 111

Distinctive! Distrautive! Dynamic! This is Room 111, the only academic home room comprised entirely of boys. Highlighting this group are Bobby Miller, Vice President; Steven Slotnick, Executive Committee; Mel Toon, Vice President of the Student Council; Charles Munroe, representative; Donnat Mitchell, treasurer; and Marty Marcus, our Rembrandt. Distinctive is the entire room—just ask any passing girl; and the dynamic personalities of each and every boy are displayed in everything they do.

Thank heaven for Room 111, for without them how would the girls survive? A round of applause goes to Mr. Walsh, the producer of this three "D" home room.

ROW 1: Rosemarie Agostino, Cassandra Batson, Ina Asnes, Roberta Brown, Marilyn Canter, Carolyn De Pina, Josephine Austin, Sandra Bessin, Phyllis Braverman, Elinor Akell. ROW 2: Elinor Bloom, Sheila Cohen, Elaine Cohen, Fredelyn Davidson, Ruth Dan-

towitz, Merle Freeman, Frances Burrell, La Raine Davis, Linda Freid, Sheila Beda, Miss Beck. ROW 3: Norma Berkowitz, Roberta Bower, Juanita Clay, Barbara Chase, Roberta Franklin, Barbara Bryant, Carol Daniels, Elaine Dores, Gretchen Coleman.

Room 113

We present room 113, a talented group unsurpassed in its character and merit, excelling in every school activity, under the supervision of Miss Beck. Among our stars we find Norma Berkowitz, Speaker of the General House; Gretchen Coleman, Secretary of the class; Carrie DePina, Treasurer of the Student Council; Barbara Bryant, Chairman of the Prom Committee; and Barbara Chase and Carol Daniels, alias Beethovens, our school musicians. On the yearbook, Elaine Dores is Typing Editor; Sheila Beda, Art Editor; and Elaine Cohen, Literary Editor.

Our deepest appreciation to Miss Beck, whose advice and understanding produced a superlative senior homeroom. Hats off to all in 113, a truly fine example of Memorial's spirit.

ROW 1: Roberta Lipnick, Joy Lezberg, Marion Hollander, Joyce Lederman, Marjorie Leben, Arlene Paderson, Roberta Jacobs, Elinor Kemler, Hazel McFerson, Sheila Kohner. ROW 2: Helaine Kelman, Jacqueline Lynch, Marie Jones, Cynthia Katz, Faith Litvack, Sheila

Room 118

Through the magic portals of 118 pass the greatest scholars known to man, animal, or vegetable. Such notables as Beth Klass, our Senior Class President; Roberta Lipnick, Editor-in-Chief of the Yearbook; and other assorted geniuses, in various shapes and sizes.

Under the impressive direction of Dr. Tarutz a dignified and studious air of significance is maintained. We believe that no other senior homeroom can boast of such feeling of good fellowship and leadership. Our best wishes are extended to Dr. Tarutz for his patience and guidance. We hope he will remember us always with fond memories.

ROW 1: Shirley Meizler, Sheila Geller, Betty Orel, Elaine Shuman, Miss Simendinger, Helen Beberman, Linda Burton, Bryna Radonsky, Helen Skibbs. ROW 2: Marvin Clark, George Taylor, Robert Win-

bush, Alfonso Willoughby, Donald Evans, Marion Webb, John Fernandez. ROW 3: David Rosenthal, Samuel Mitchell, Alloyd Hurley, Richard Short, Robert Katz, Donald Mish, Robert Isveck.

Room 120

These students may some day be and owners of our stores. The pupils have followed a cooperative course half a day of school and half a day of well-known department stores in Boston.

The head of this homeroom is Miss Simena,
who joined Memorial's faculty for the first time
September.

The students are taught merchandising, retailing, and many useful subjects which will help them in their business careers. This course is very constructive, for while the pupils are learning in school, they are also becoming proficient in jobs which interest them. These are the well-prepared leaders of the business world of tomorrow.

ROW 1: Nancy Parvey, Sandra Wallace, Barbara Weiner, Joanne Sampson, Evelyn Porges, Roberta Rooney, Sheila Strachman, Michele Winer, Marjorie Press, Beverly Sibulkin. ROW 2: Gail Wax, Judith Sanborn, Ida Zushuk, Winnifred Sargent, Janice Randolph, Martha Pinto, Ada Sims, Brenda Rutstein, Linda Wasserman, Esta Titlebaum, Mr. Simmons. ROW 3: Carol Simon, Sandra Smargon, Judith Thompson, Roberta Waldman, Gladys Potter, Eileen Stein, Phyllis Schwartz, Madeline Richmond, Christine Zopatti.

Room 121

Where would R.M.H.S. be without Room 121? That is the question! Under the capable guidance of Mr. Simmons, we have fared very well this year.

We are proud to say that in our room can be found some of the most outstanding girls in Roxbury Memorial. Proof of this is cited in the following: Michele Winer and Esta Titlebaum, members of the Student Council; Joanne Sampson, a member of the General House; Carol Simon, president of the Forum and Science Clubs; and Sandra Wallace, School Treasurer and Advertising Editor of the yearbook.

These are just a few of the girls who have helped to make Room 121 one of the best in the school.

ROW 1: Anthony Morganelli, Burton Stone, Robert Wooding, Francis Norton, James Nichols, Michael Sinman, Richard Seronick, Murray Szathmary. ROW 2: Paul Moran, Eugene Neville, Ronald Pe-

Room 213

One December morning the command, "Ok, boys! Let's go!" tore us from the shops we knew and exiled us to Trade School. Because the Christmas program was in rehearsals, Edward Whalen (Shepherd) and Kenneth McKinnon (Wise Man) were excused from moving duties, but we were all in our new quarters for the New Year. Happily, academic work has returned us to Memorial every other week. Roger Mathews, Kenneth McKinnon, and James Nichols could meet with the Prom Committee, and Treasurer Robert Wooding could turn over the class funds extracted so efficiently from us. Despite upsets caused by remodeling, it has been a good year, and we thank Mr. Brown and Mr. Bortnick for their guidance.

ROW 1: Donald Kernan, Arthur Long, Robert Donald, Joseph Gilleo, Paul Fitzpatrick, Daniel Kent, John Farrell, Bernard Forman, Laurence Kelley. ROW 2: Mr. Bortnick, David Frizzell, Charles Frederick, Lawrence Forman, Lawrence Crichton, Allan Goldsmith, Richard Desmond. ROW 3: John MacNeil, John Burke, Francis Mancuso, Myron Cummins, Michael Donahue, John Connor, Stephen Floyd.

Room 214

Room 214 under the guidance of Mr. Bortnick is proud of the service its members have given the school. Laurence Kelley represents us in the National Honor Society. While we had athletic teams at Memorial, our group was well represented on the gridiron by Charles Frederick and Stephen Floyd, on the diamond by John Burke and John Farrell, and on the ice by Lawrence Crichton and John Farrell.

Commuting between shop week at Trade School and academic week at Memorial has not made our last year any easier. But in spite of the roar of drills and jack-hammers our last year has been a happy one.

History

Because the passing of a great institution merits some note, we recall in the pages of this last yearbook a few highlights of the history of Roxbury Memorial High School.

Roxbury had no completely free public high school until 1852, when the School Committee decided to offer instruction to boys in non-classical subjects and founded the Roxbury High School. The school opened at what is now 120 Dudley Street, but in 1853 it was relocated on Kearsarge Avenue. Next year similar opportunities were offered for girls in a building on Kenilworth Street. Here in 1860 the schools were united.

With the annexation of Roxbury in 1868, Roxbury High passed to the control of the Boston School Board. In 1891, the "magnificent new structure" on Warren Street was built, planned for about five hundred fifty pupils; and almost immediately it was filled. Roxbury High then had a three-year course, but about fifty returned each year for additional college preparation.

In 1910 the boys were transferred to other schools. So many girls applied that in that year the authorities established in the William Lloyd Garrison District a colony which in 1912 was moved to the Baker School. In September of this year an addition was completed, increasing the capacity by about five hundred more pupils. In 1916 another annex in the Baker School was required. In 1919 a second annex was established in the High School for Practical Arts, and was moved to the Winthrop Street School during 1921 and 1922. Citizens and the Roxbury Civic League urged that the Roxbury High School be provided with a satisfactory building.

In 1923 the Williams homestead on the corner of Warren and Townsend Streets was purchased. In September, 1926, Roxbury High School changed both site and name. It was now called Memorial High School, in honor of the six Boston Public School teachers who gave their lives in the first World War: Frank P. Kelley, Peter A. Landigan, James R. Mahoney, Warren E. Robinson, William B. Corbett, and James E. Welch, Jr.

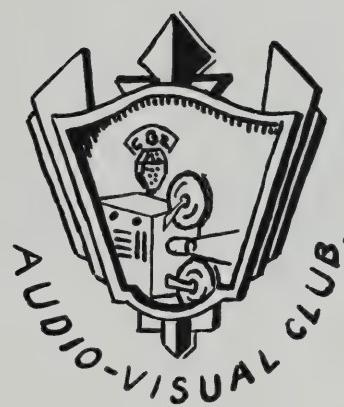

Roxbury Memorial High for Boys and Roxbury Memorial High for Girls were housed together in this new building, with the girls' school in the Humboldt Avenue end and the boys' school in the Warren Street end, each having its own headmaster, faculty, and students. In 1958, however, both schools were grieved by the School Committee's vote to discontinue Memorial High School after 1960 and to give the building to Technical High School. There was no registration of freshmen and sophomores for 1958-1959, and juniors and seniors returned in September, 1958, for the last year in which each school enjoyed a separate existence. Finally, in 1959-1960, the co-educational class of 1960 trod the halls of Memorial for the last time. Thus ended one hundred and eight years of service to the people of Roxbury.

Class History

Roxbury Memorial High School for Boys, situated in the east wing of the building, will forever exist in the minds and hearts of those who attend it. How we, as freshmen, enjoyed the new experience of the large gymnasium and track and yearned to take military drill, the glamorous privilege of the upper classes! Also we remember our swinging talent show, the forums and sports activities, and the curiosity about what went on beyond that little green door. In our sophomore year we were still in the boys' school. In sports our basketball team won the City Championship of 1958. The Bostonian kept us informed of sports events as well as of other happenings about school. The Schoolboy Parade was our first and last. We did our part to keep Memorial alive, helping circulate the alumni petitions. As juniors, we were deprived of military drill and gym because of the reduced enrollment. Also we were transferred to the west end of the building, beyond the mysterious door, and our curiosity was finally satisfied. This was our first year without a talent show. Sportswise, Dorchester was defeated by Memorial's football team for the first time, and our hockey team had its most successful season. Memorial's track team won the Class C relay in the State meet, and Toon went to the Nationals.

Roxbury Memorial High School for Girls has undergone vast changes since we entered, welcomed by Dr. Nash at the Big Sister Party. We joined clubs, wrote for the Enterprise, and became aware of the "green door" at the end of the corridor. As sophomores, our class was greatly enlarged, and Miss Margaret C. Carroll became our headmaster. We were isolated on the third floor, but we remember class elections and Induction Day, when we learned the significance of Mother Memorial. We discovered what was behind the green door, but didn't venture beyond it. As juniors, we were saddened by the decision to terminate R.M.H.S., which meant the departure of so many beloved teachers, but the few remaining upheld the spirit of Memorial. We moved to the second floor, still the underclass. The junior year was highlighted by Student Exchange Day, the Christmas-Chanukah Party, Career Day, Forums, and assemblies. The climax was the Green and Gold Jubilee at the Vendome. At last the "green door" was partially opened when science and language classes became coeducational. We learned with sorrow that Miss Carroll would leave us. She was the headmaster who guided us through most of our high school career, instilling a respect for high standards of achievement and conduct. We hope that we may live up to the ideals she made us love, and that she will remember us as we remember her, with affection and gratitude. May we strive to make her always proud of us, for she never failed to encourage our every effort.

Both boys and girls, combined as Roxbury Memorial High School, at last entered the senior year, so long awaited, the year of class rings, yearbook, class night, and the senior prom. We had hoped that we might have a junior class to lead and inspire, but forces beyond our control prevented this. Both schools had been combined under the boys' headmaster, Dr. Paul B. Crudden. In spite of their different backgrounds, both groups got along well, and our elected President, a girl, was unopposed. With such highlights as Induction Day, Christmas Party, the Fashion Show, and our revived track team, we upheld Memorial's spirit and ideals to the very end.

These students receive the highest honor that may be achieved in a secondary school. The letters C.S.L.S., imprinted on the national society's keystone, mean CHARACTER, SCHOLARSHIP, LEADERSHIP, and SERVICE, the attributes of a good citizen, one who should serve his country outstandingly.

All the students who have met the standards of this highly selective society have achieved scholastic honors and have demonstrated interest and sympathy in the concerns of their fellow-students. Their generous service in school and in the community has gained them much recognition.

Student Council

President: Diane Kanter

Vice President: Melvin Toon

Secretary: Esta Titlebaum

Treasurer: Carolyn DePina

At Roxbury Memorial our Governing Council, representative of the students at large, directs school affairs according to the democratic principles by which our country is governed. We uphold Memorial standards so that we may transmit them "not less or worse, but greater and more beautiful" than we received them.

These are our leaders who make important decisions for the entire student body. Induction Day shows their importance to their school and classmates. The success of all our activities is dependent upon this council.

Induction Day

MAKE HONOR
SUPREME

One of the most heart-warming traditions throughout the history of Memorial has been the induction of the new Governing Council. The program was directed by Miss Beck and began with the passing of the torch from president Diane Nathanson, to our new president, Diane Kanter. The council then took the vow that "we shall Maintain High Standards and Make Honor Supreme."

Followed by a tableau, the ceremony came to a dramatic climax with a dim spotlight on the statue of Mother Memorial and the soft strains of our school song in the background.

In later years we shall look back with emotion on the last enactment of this symbolic and moving ceremony.

ROW 1: Joanne Sampson, Sheila Kohner, Norma Berkowitz.

ROW 2: John Burke, Dr. Tarutz, Charles Munroe.

Home Room Representatives

Each year the students in every homeroom elect one of their classmates to represent them. The representatives chosen become members of the General House on Induction Day. They attend all Student Council meetings and submit the ideas of their respective homerooms.

One of their chief duties is to collect dues from the students---Money! Money! Money! Their favorite motto is: "Maintain High Dues, Make Money Supreme."

In all seriousness, the homeroom representatives have completed a successful job in the financial department of school activities. It was a difficult task which took much painstaking labor.

Yearbook Literary Staff

Editor-In-Chief: Roberta Lipnick

Literary Editor: Elaine Cohen

Assistant Editors: Sheila Cohen

Gretchen Coleman

The Literary Staff has labored to produce a yearbook surpassed by no other. This staff has edited all the text of this yearbook. Each staff member will look back and remember the hours spent working together, and the constant pleas to rewrite or rephrase.

We wish to thank Mr. Brougham for his criticism and advice. We would also like to mention especially our editor-in-chief, literary editor, and assistant literary editors for their efforts in making this yearbook possible.

Yearbook Business Staff

Managing Editor: Diane Kanter
 Advertising Editor: Sandra Wallace
 Subscription Editor: Cynthia Katz
 Booster Editor: Rena Hurwitz

The Business Staff of the yearbook is to be congratulated for the fine work they did in making this yearbook possible. Through the untiring efforts of the Business Manager, Diane Kanter, and of Dr. Tarutz, the sale of advertisements was managed effectively. Their work has more meaning than we realize, for without this staff and its excellent co-operation the yearbook could not have been published. The response of ads was absolutely tremendous. This is a great accomplishment indeed, when one takes into consideration the limited size of the staff, for we reached our goal and even surpassed other years.

Yearbook Typing Staff

Typing Editor: Elaine Dores
Assistant Editors: Carolyn DePina
Christine Zopatti

Clicking typewriter keys around the building have called attention to the typing staff, the real producers of this yearbook. Every word of text has gone through their machines at least twice. Every page of copy had to be letter perfect and accurately gauged for space; otherwise the printers' job would have been more difficult and more expensive. The work of the typing staff demanded the highest standards of accuracy and the constant exercise of good judgment. Without the faithful persistence of their weary eyes and fatigued fingers, the advisor and editors would have had no yearbook. The pages of this yearbook give testimony of their skill and loyalty.

Yearbook Photo Staff

Photography Editor: Judy Thompson

Assistant Editors: Esta Titlebaum

Charles Munroe

Hold it! Smile! These are the familiar words which accompany the blinding flash of the photographer's camera. Our excellent staff has added many memorable moments to our yearbook through the medium of pictures. Each activity and club affair during the year has been portrayed through photographs.

These hard-working students have not only assisted the class photographers, but they have set up the schedules and layouts for all the yearbook pictures. These people have had a difficult job to fulfill and they have done it well. We at Memorial are proud to have such an outstanding group in charge of the photographic work of the yearbook.

ROW 2: Judith Lipson, Nancy Parvey, Beth Klass, Juanita Clay, Mr. Brougham.

Yearbook Art Staff

The Art Staff of the 1960 Laurel-Bostonian is to be congratulated for its unique work. The staff, lacking an art department, has worked under great limitations; however, they have succeeded in displaying creativity and originality. They have skillfully designed the division pages and added their own artistic touch to the literary articles.

In their drawings they have recalled many of our pleasant memories at Memorial which otherwise could not be captured.

Under the competent leadership of their editor, Sheila Beda, the staff, working together as a team, has set the finishing touches to make this yearbook a success.

Class Night

The Class Night Committee, under the excellent supervision of Miss Bogan, did a superb job writing and planning the outstanding Class Night program.

Among the members of the committee, producers, directors, costume designers, and writers were discovered. Although the members were not all playwrights, they worked as one big unit to write and plan the Class Night skit. This took not only skill, but also persistence and patience on the part of the many writers.

This was the first year that the girls' Class Night, and the boys' Class Day were combined into one program. The class of 1960 should be proud of their committee, who helped to make Class Night, 1960, one of the best ever.

Michele Winer, James Nichols, Charles Munroe, Mr. Brougham, Barbara Bryant, Sheila Kohner.

Prom Committee

The last senior prom of Roxbury Memorial High School was held on May 12, 1960 at the Casino-on-the-Charles, in the Hotel Fensgate. The music for this outstanding event was furnished by the Clarence De Brew Septet.

The dancing lasted from 8:00 until 12:00. From there the revelers went to various night spots, not returning till the "wee small hours of the morning."

Special thanks should be given to Barbara Bryant, the Prom chairman, and her hardworking committee, who, guided by Mr. Brougham, made the last Senior prom in Memorial's history a truly great and memorable occasion.

Benjamin Franklin Day

In recognition of the importance of the printing industry, the governors of the Commonwealth have set aside each year, to be known as Printing Week, the week in which falls the birthday of that great patriot and printer, Benjamin Franklin. The various printing organizations and the Franklin Society pay homage to their patron. The rededication of the Franklin statue in front of City Hall is part of the program in which the Roxbury Memorial senior printing students participate. In the absence of the Honorable John F. Collins (incidentally a graduate of Roxbury Memorial), we were greeted by Deputy Mayor McMorrow, who addressed the group and presented our own Kenneth McKinnon, who delivered an excellent oration on Franklin.

Assembly Committee

Lights! Camera! Action! These were familiar words of the backstage crew during rehearsals for Induction Day, forums, Christmas, and other assemblies. This crew with their cooperation and coordination were essential to producing perfect performances every time.

Very often you might have had a chance to pass through the assembly hall, stunned by the clatter of the "mikes" about the stage, the flashes of the light bulbs, and the rip-roaring sounds from the sound boxes. Had you been a newcomer to our fair establishment, you might have thought the world was at its end, but it was only the striving members of the crew, preparing for another assembly that's sure to be a success.

Science Club

President: Carol Simon

Vice President: Marilyn Gunn

Secretary: Nancy Gray

Treasurer: Esta Titlebaum

Science Club yields friends, fun, and education. The club gives any pupil interested in science a chance to supplement his classroom work by interesting and educational activities directed by Mr. Walsh.

A student who likes to take chances is advised to walk past room 307. He'll sniff the delicious odor of gas from bunsen burners, he'll hear the screams of some poor girl who forgot her test tube was red hot, and the triumphant cry of some chemist—"IT WORKS!" These words may mean little to others, but to members of the Science Club they stand for achievement and satisfaction.

Forum Club

Moderator: Carol Simon

Secretary: Gretchen Coleman

The Forum Club, under the direction of Miss Margaret Bogan, gives the student an opportunity to express his views on controversial subjects. These topics are decided upon before each forum by the members, and each speaker does individual research.

The chairman of the forum introduces the two affirmative and the two negative speakers and gives the listeners a general idea of the subject. After each side gives its views, there is a question period. Our deepest appreciation is extended to Miss Bogan and the speakers for their informative and interesting discussions.

The purpose of the Junior Red Cross is to assist the Senior Red Cross in any way possible. For example, during the Christmas vacation, many needy families and orphaned children were helped by the effort of these students. During the annual Red Cross drive they collected money which went to many worthwhile causes.

A large number of our students have done hospital volunteer work after school and on Saturdays. Their jobs consisted of delivering the mail, assisting the patients, wheeling the gift carts, tending the information desk, working with the nurses, and helping wherever possible. To these volunteers and Red Cross workers we extend our deepest appreciation, for they have done a service to humanity.

Service Club

President: Sheila Beda
Vice President: Elaine Dores
Secretary: Judith Sanborn
Treasurer: Sandra Smargon
Utility Officer: Susan Gitner

Through each succeeding year the Service Club has striven to enlighten the hearts of those less fortunate at holiday seasons. The members make tray favors, bows, scrapbooks, and other small gifts to cheer up patients confined in hospitals during the holidays. The Service Club is happy that it has exceeded its goal by over 50% in these projects. Under the leadership of Miss Beck, the Service Club of Roxbury Memorial High School is proud of another successful year of excellent service rendered to our fellow men.

Math Club

President: Howell Yancey
 Vice President: Judy Thompson
 Secretary: Susan Gitner
 Treasurer: Melvin Toon

This club offers many opportunities to those who are mathematically inclined. Under the guidance of their competent advisor, Mr. Walsh, the members are at liberty to present their problems and therefore understand their work completely. Since each member is a math student, he is more qualified to understand and cope with the math problems of today. In meetings held by this club, education is combined with humor, which accounts for its popularity and success. Although this group may not contain future Einsteins, the students, through trial and error, have calculated a year that really counts.

Audio-Visual Club

President: Ada Sims
Vice President: Susan Gitner
Secretary: Elaine Dores
Treasurer: Mel Toon

Under the competent leadership of Dr. Leo Tarutz, the Audio-Visual Club, formerly the camera and projection club, has presented films both interesting and educational to the student body. It is in this club that the members are taught the intricate mechanism of the projector and the various procedures for the presentation of films. Whirr—the sound of the projector echoes throughout the building. The room is dark, the picture is on the screen, and the member of the Audio-Visual Club is performing his duty. Along with other members of this club, she has provided our school with useful services through the years.

Travel Club

President: Diane Kanter
Vice President: Carol Simon
Secretary: Roberta Lipnick
Treasurer: Arlene Paderson

Have you dreamed of traveling across the continent? The members of the Travel Club learn the customs, songs, and dances of many lands to achieve a better understanding of other peoples. At Christmas, we had a combined party with the Service Club in which we sang and danced Israeli style. Each year we have a guest speaker who tells us of his experiences abroad. If you are a vicarious traveler you would enjoy our little visits to foreign lands. Picture yourself bathing on the French Riviera or promenading down the Champs Elysees in Paris! Yes, this is the way to promote brotherhood.

Glee Club

President: Sheila Cohen
Vice President: Arlene Paderson
Secretary: Marjorie Leben
Treasurer: Elinor Bloom

"Fortissimo! Louder altos! More seconds!" words from the producer-director of Memorial's Glee Club—Mr. Michael Famigletti. Under his direction, a group of too low sopranos, too high altos, and a bit sour seconds always produced melodious tones. The high point of the Glee Club's activities this year was the Christmas Assembly. Our appreciation to Mr. Famigletti, whose patience through tedious rehearsals made all this possible. Thanks to Barbara Chase, our pianist, Bobby Miller, Mel Toon, Billy Jones, and Charlie Munroe, whose male voices aided this female Glee Club.

Lunch Room Assistants

In our last year at Memorial we have been well fed, thanks to the boys and girls of the lunch room staff. Under the watchful eye of Mrs. Cunningham, the cafeteria manager, some have served in the kitchen and at the counter. Others, supervised by Dr. Tarutz, have checked the trays and have operated the cash registers. All have worked together to give us our daily bread in the shortest possible time and with the least possible inconvenience. Our lunch periods have been pleasant largely because of their cheerful and efficient service, and they will be associated with some of our most pleasant memories of Memorial.

Merle Freeman, Sheila Cohen, Sheila Strachman, Stephen Damelin, Barbara Bryant, Sandra Bessin, Roberta Brown, Miss McMorrow.

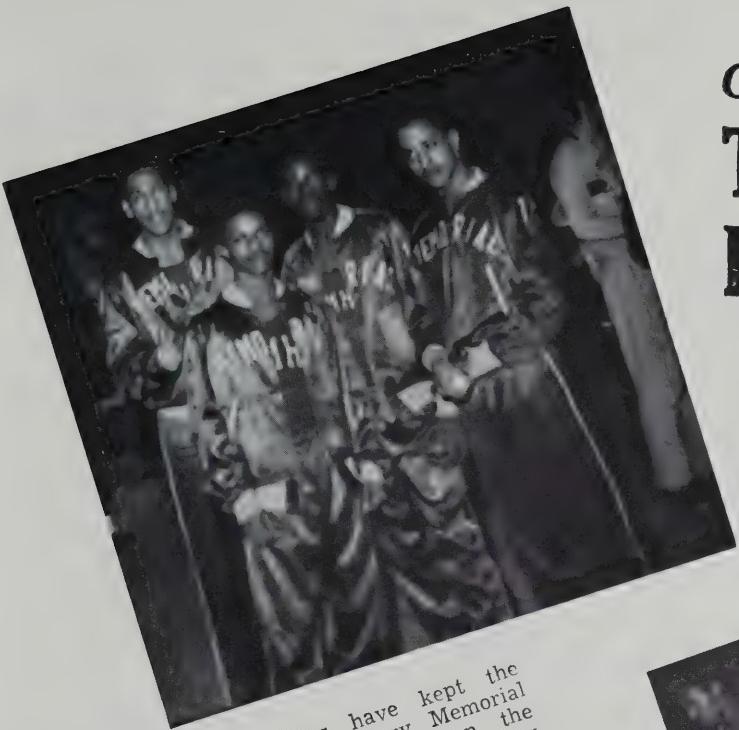

Office Assistants

We, the office messengers of Roxbury Memorial, in order to form a more perfect school, have aided Miss McMorrow, Dr. Crudden, the Guidance Counselors, and any teachers who have needed our assistance.

Under the direction of Miss McMorrow, we have presented bulletins, messages, and all sorts of valuable information to teachers. We have answered doorbells, escorted visitors to appropriate rooms, and tried, most often in vain, to secure a voice on the other end of the switchboard.

Assisting Miss Kenney and Mr. McGrimley, we have managed to scare fifty percent of the students out of their wits with the words, "You are wanted at the Guidance Office."

Going, Going . . .

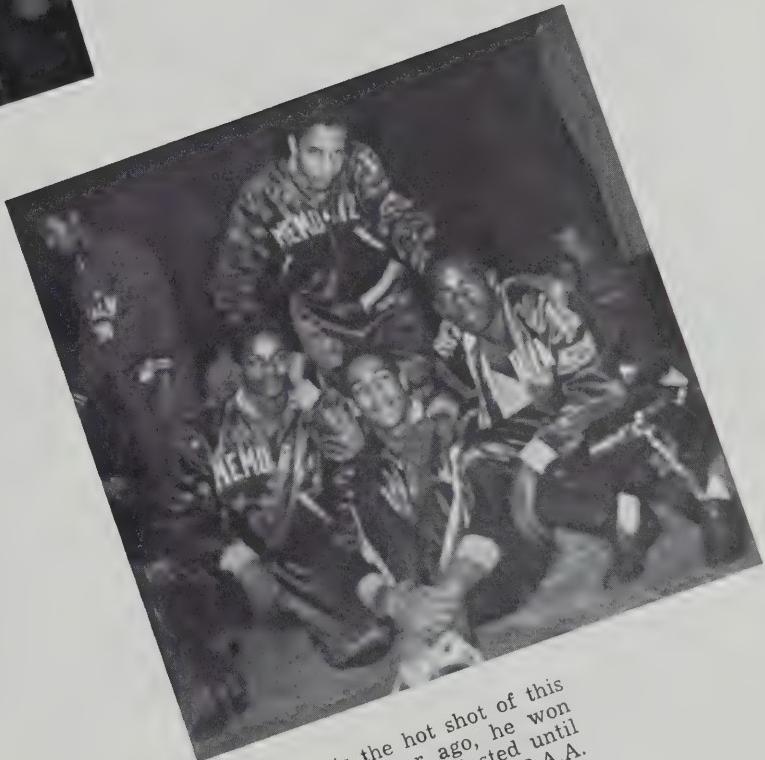

Trackmen Keep Alive Rox. Memorial's Name

By ERNEST DALTON

Six boys have kept the name of Roxbury Memorial High School alive on the sports pages this Winter. They will continue until the school goes out of existence.

The boys, track men all, are Mel Toon, Dick Francis, Roger Matthews, John Dinall, Ed Adams, and Charles Munroe. They entered a relay team in the B.A.A. games; will run Saturday in the State Meet, plan to run outdoors next Spring.

After that, no more Roxbury Memorial.

Toon is the hot shot of this sextet. A year ago, he won the Class C dash, lasted until the semifinals in the B.A.A. sprint and will be 'defending' in a way in the D-dash Saturday.

Francis will run the 600; Matthews the 300; Dinall will so run the 1000, Adams will also be in the dash, and Munroe will be in the high jump.

Making up the relay will be Toon, Francis, Matthews and Dinall, with Munroe the alternate.

Good luck, Roxbury Memorial.

Naturally she's a POWERS girl

Only a short time ago she was unhappy, embarrassed and shy. Yet today she is radiantly confident. She just naturally seems to know what to wear, what to do and what to say wherever she goes. Chances are she has become a Powers Girl, for only Powers Finishing School training enhances feminine poise and grace so naturally.

Powers Executive-Secretarial School

For the first time, personal grooming, poise and self-assurance are given the attention they deserve in a secretarial course. Powers training develops you both as a secretary and as a personality. You learn business skills and acquire the Powers look all in one thrilling one-year course. Short typing courses, which also include Powers Finishing School training, are also available.

Shyness is nothing to be ashamed of; it is something to be conquered. An expert counselor is ready to talk with you privately and informally to explain how Powers training can help. Why not phone for an appointment now?

A BIG FUTURE
FOR ANY GIRL

When you graduate it's wonderful to have a telephone job waiting for you. You'll love the friendly new people you meet. And you'll like the excellent salary, the regular increases, the opportunities for advancement and the many additional benefits that make working for the Telephone Company so attractive to so many young people.

Telephone jobs are important ones. We have our own training program which you can enter without any previous job experience.

Why not come and see our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate. Ask the Guidance Counselor at your school to tell you when and where to apply.
